Dear student,

You have enrolled into a class that is part of the Online Education Initiative, which has lots of resources to enhance your learning in an online class. You are expected to complete the Quest Program as preparation for this online class.

Here's to your online learning success!

Use the next two weeks to get ready with the Online Readiness Quest Program.

What is this great program, you ask?

- An interactive, multimedia online program that helps you prepare for online learning success
- You can choose one track: New Online Students or Experienced Online Students.
- You can do a piece at a time, save your work, and return to it later. Or, do it all in one sitting.
- Once you complete the modules, you'll get personalized results with advice on how to be better prepared (see my report below).
- It takes about an hour or less, depending on each individual's pace. One hour

If your Moodlerooms rosters do not reflect your Banner rosters, please remember to give us the Course CRN, the Student's first & last name, the Student A number if you have it, and the Student's email.
If you do not include this information, it will slow down our ability to correct the roster status.
Thank you! ALSO: Summer & most of Fall 2016 should now be here.

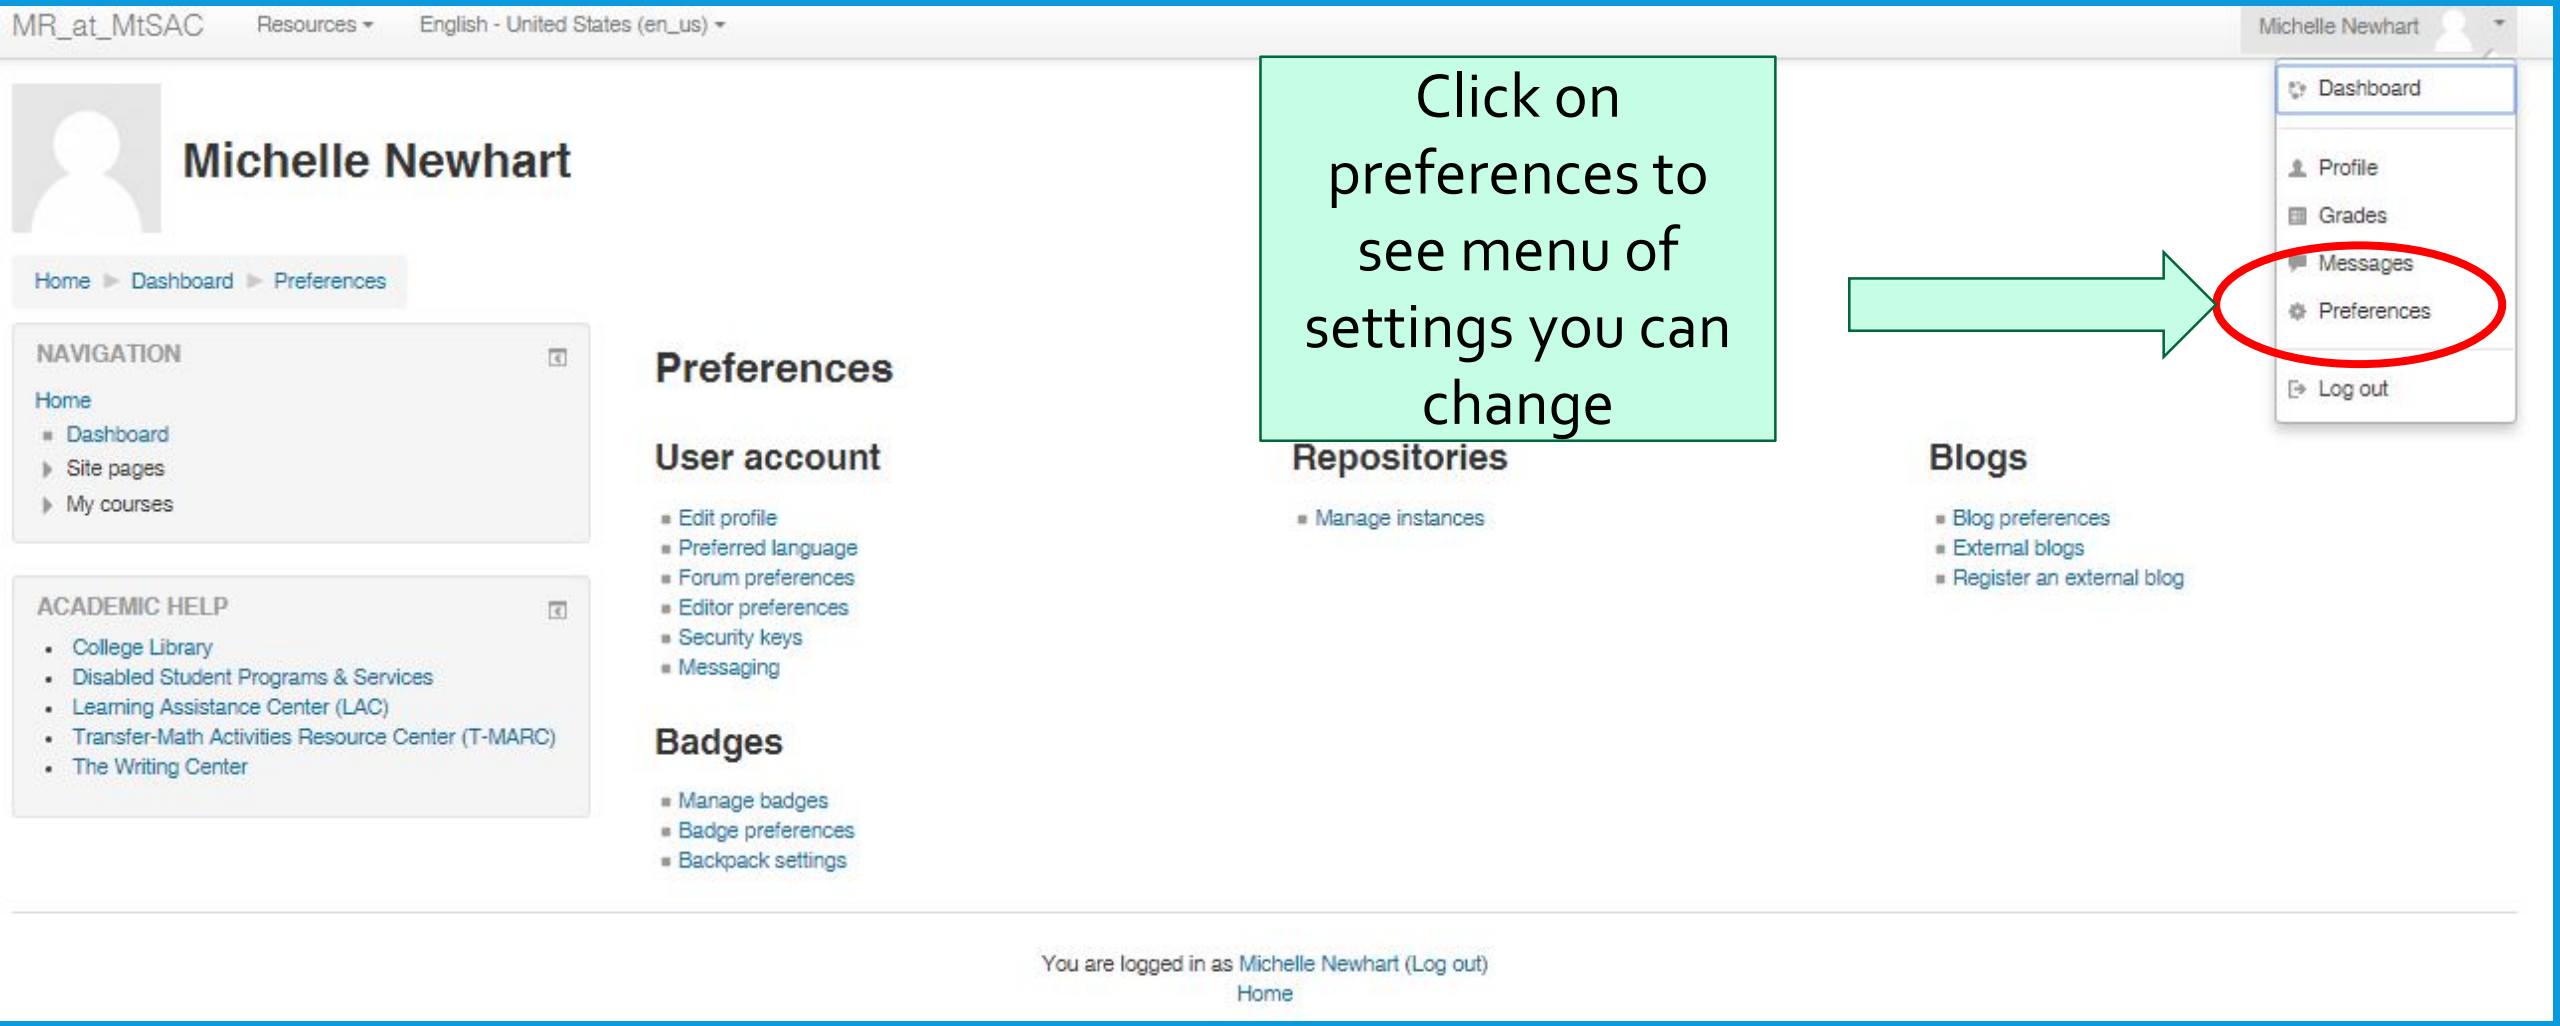
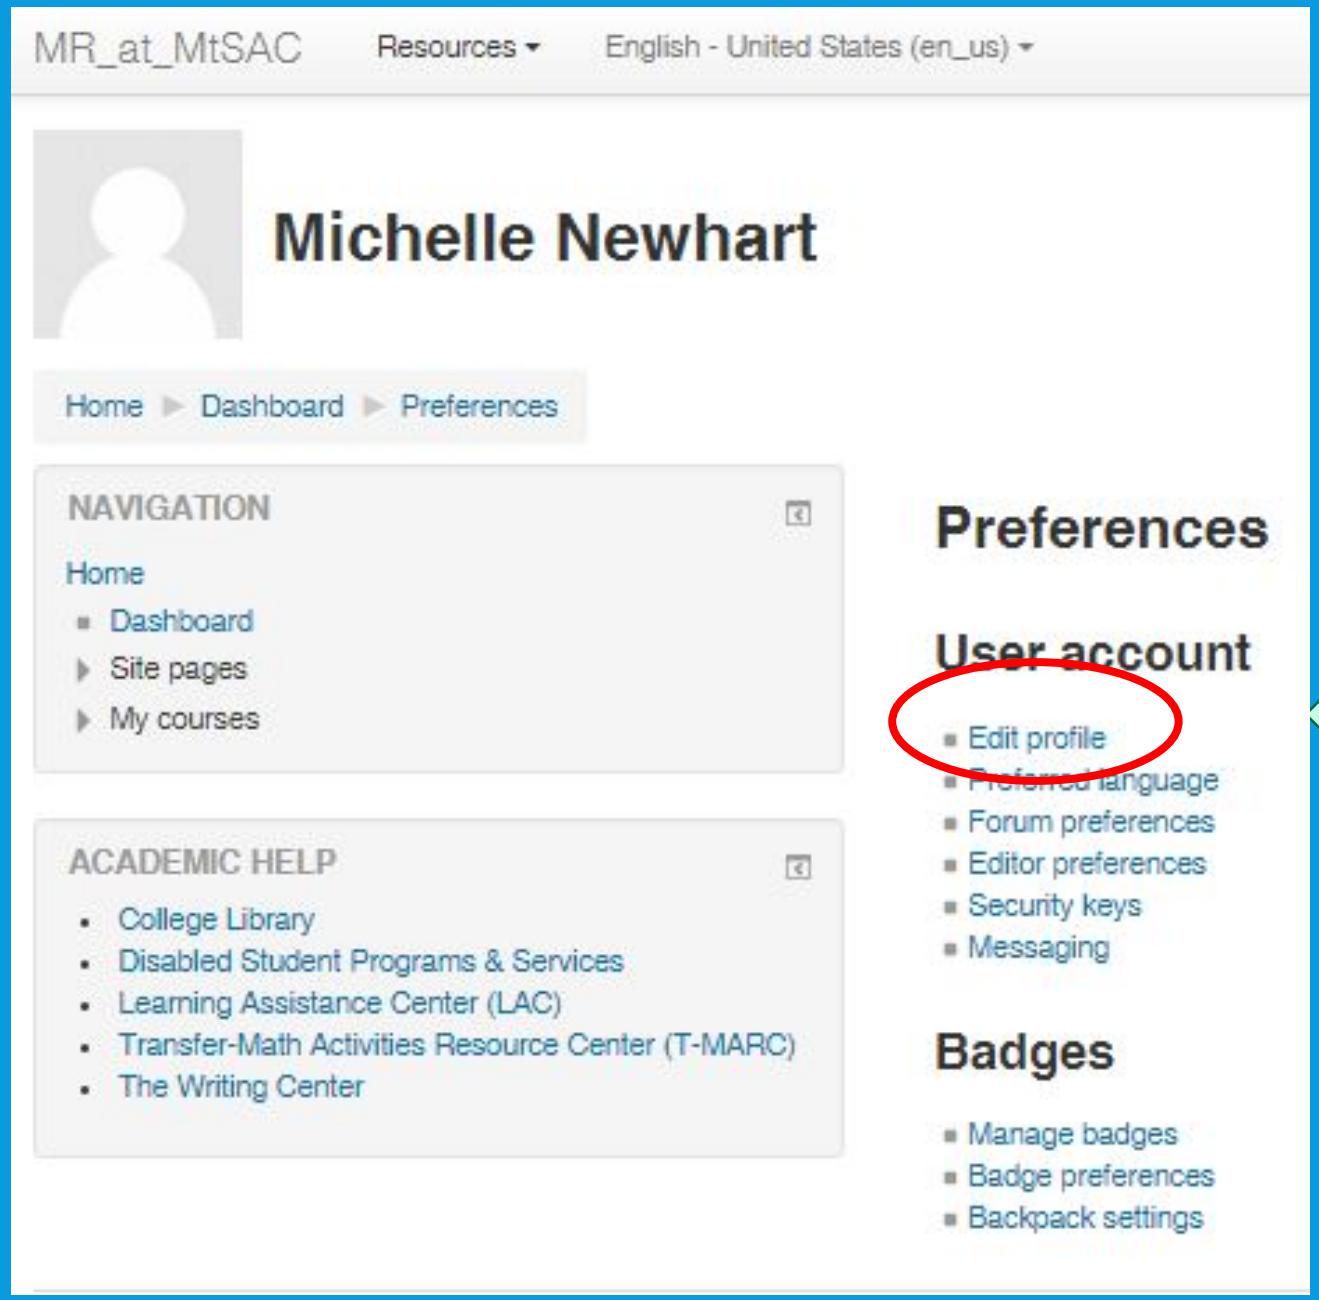
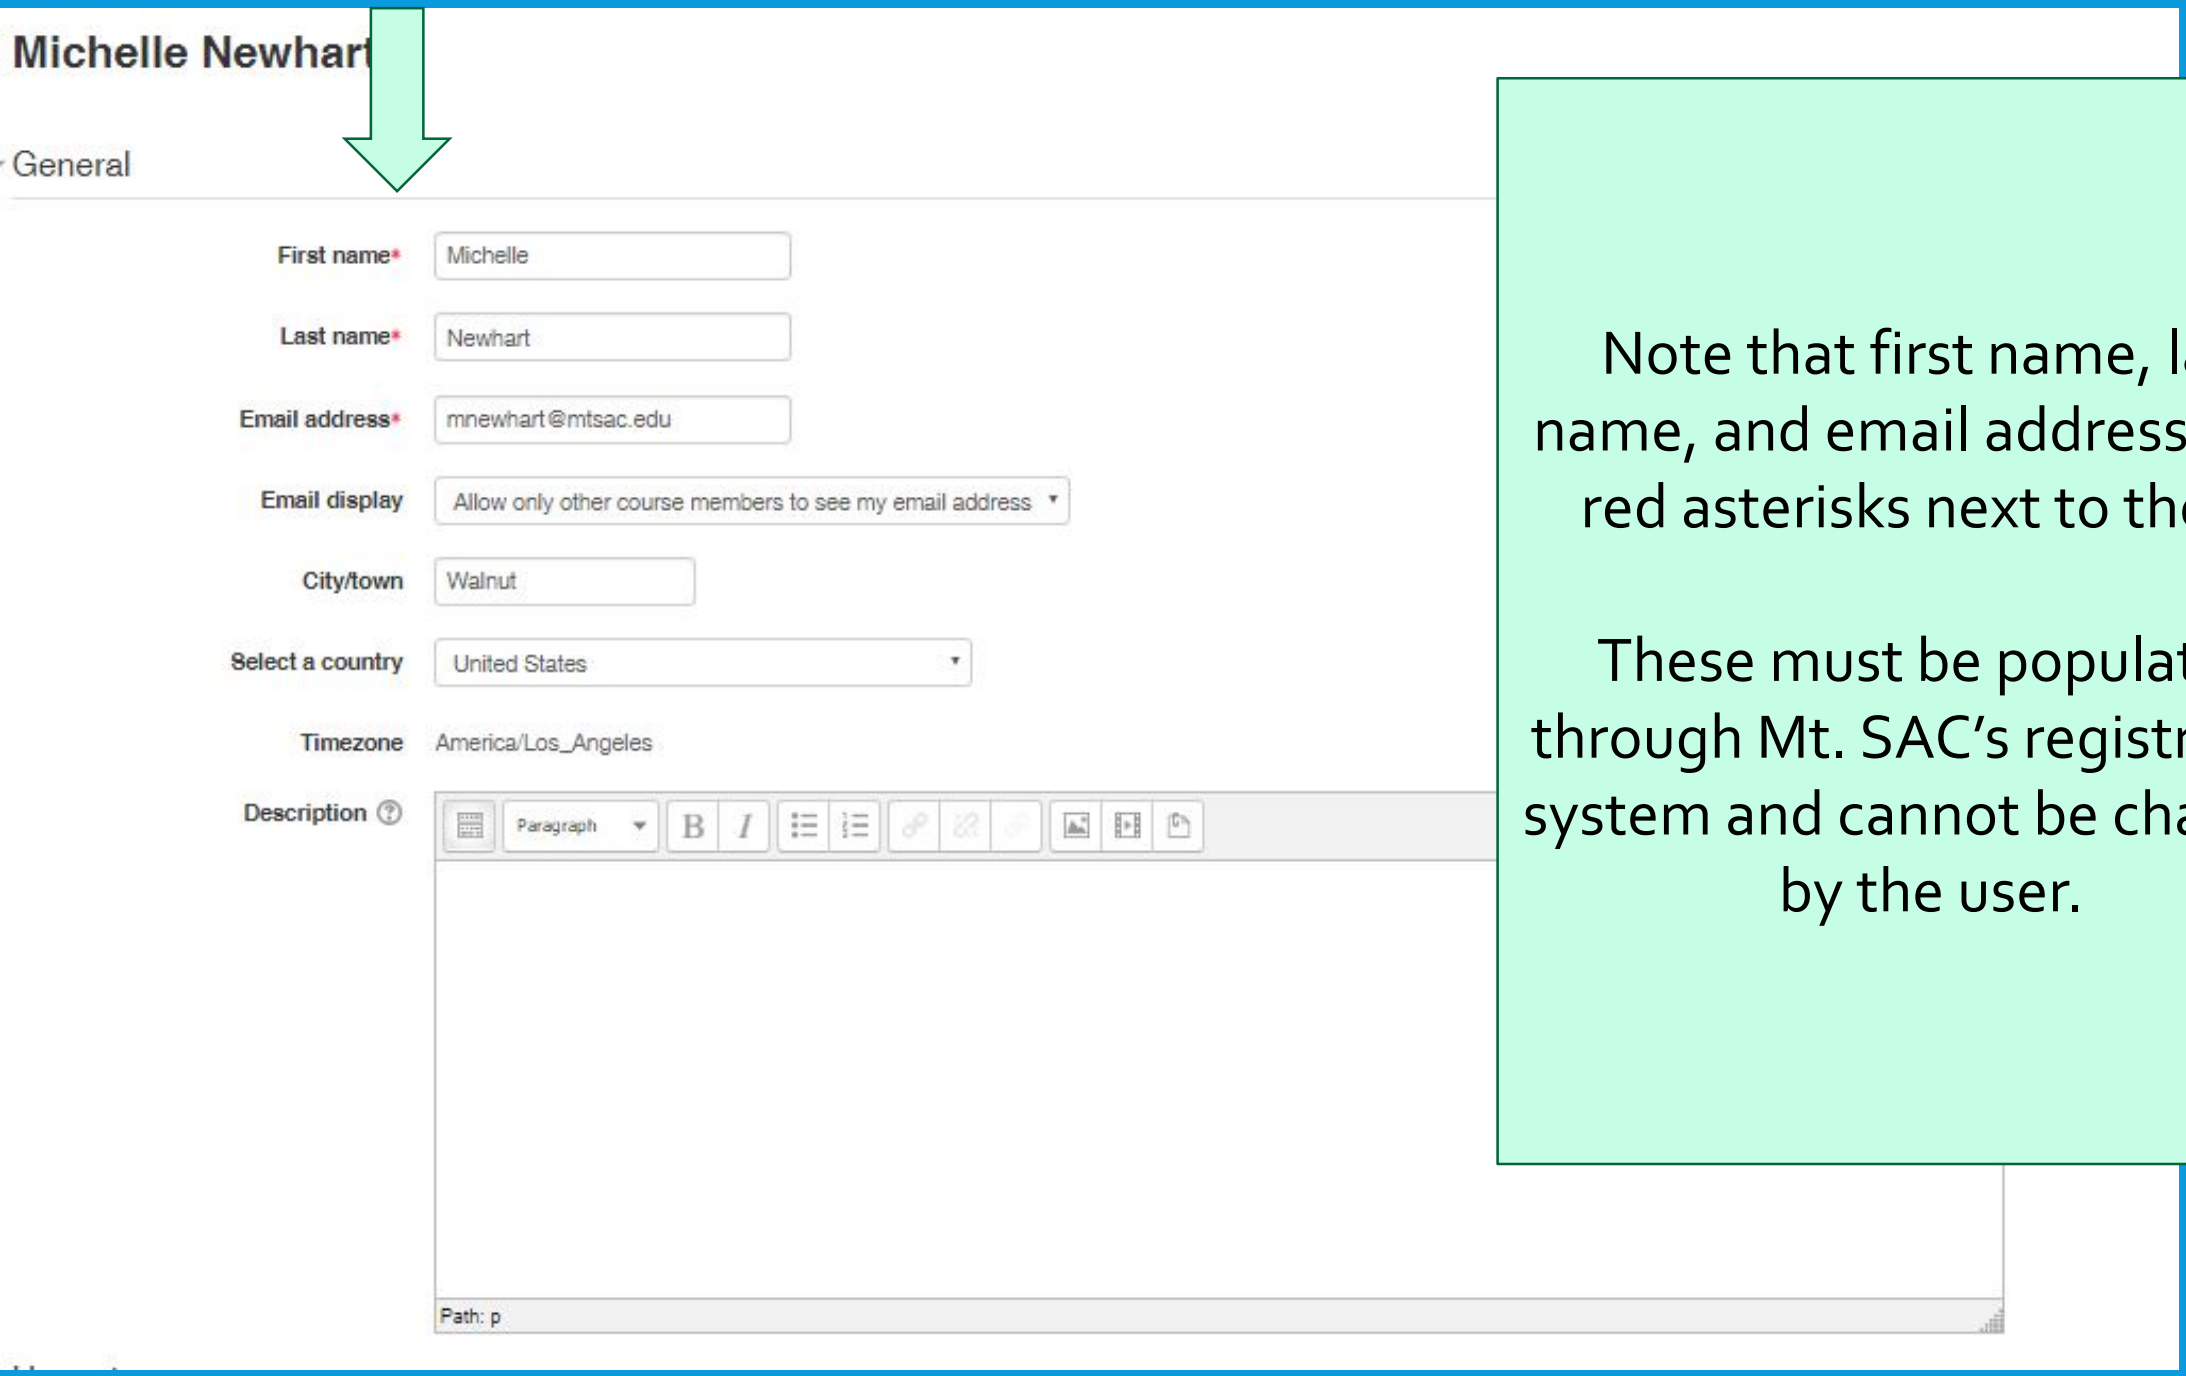
how to adjust student Moodlerooms Settings?



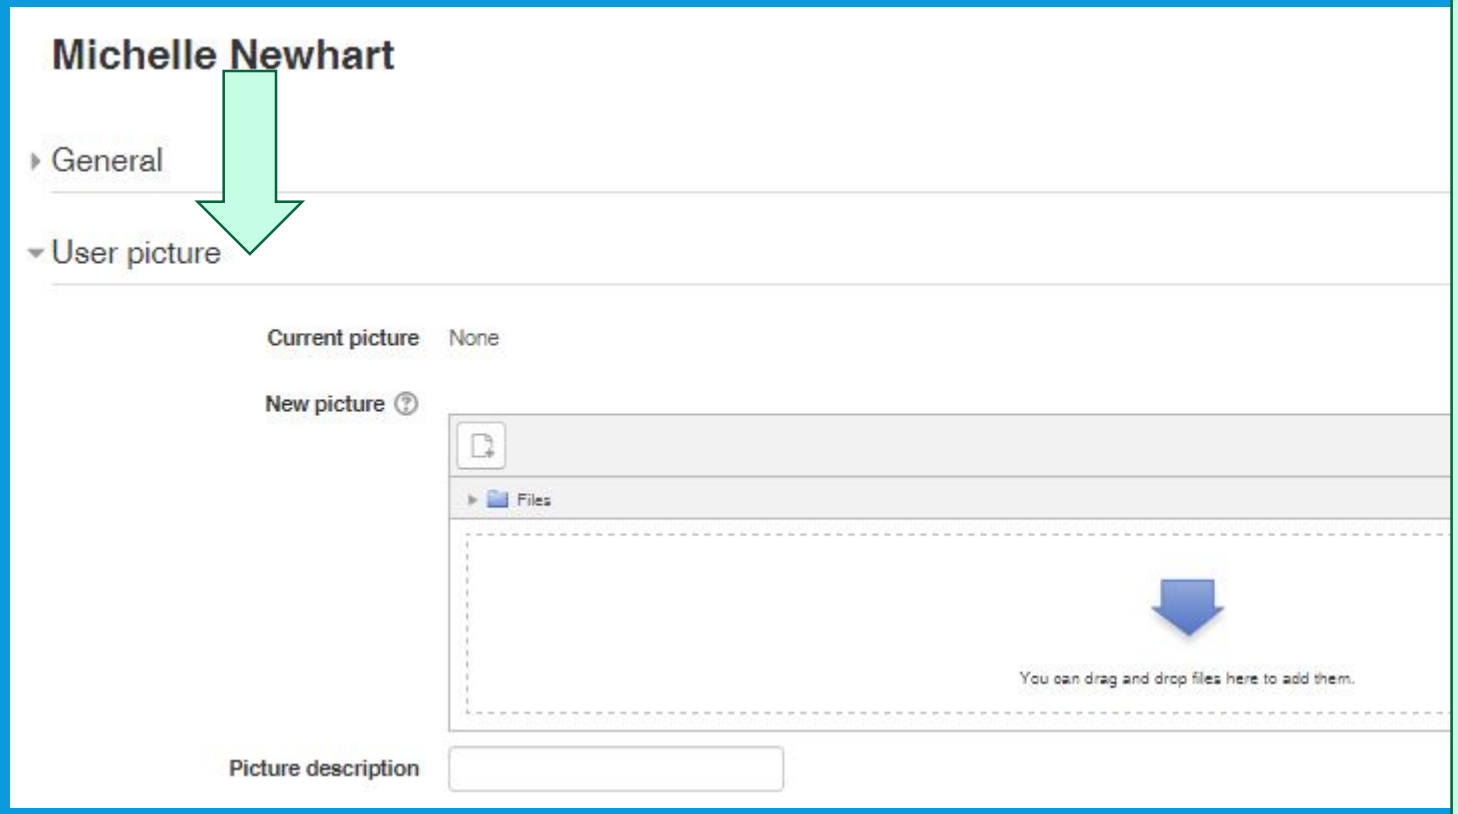


Under Edit profile, you can add a picture, information about your name and its pronunciation, list your interests and provide other ways to contact you.

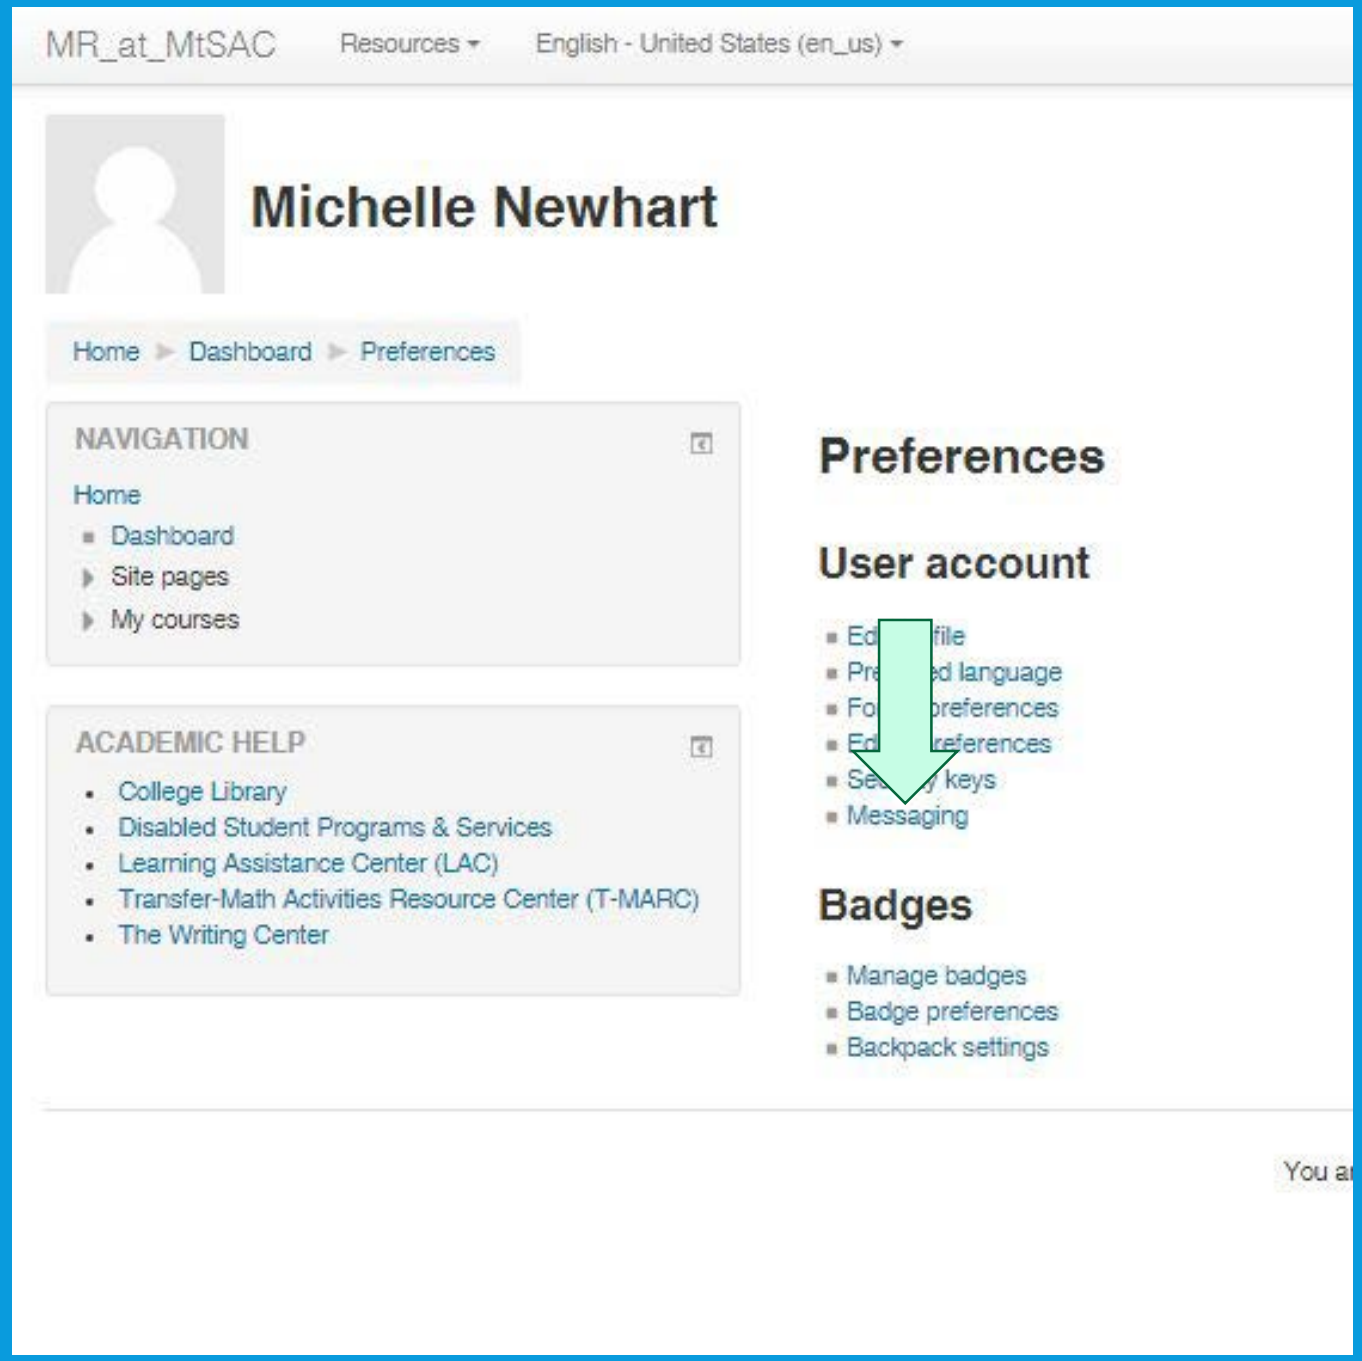


Note that first name, last name, and email address have red asterisks next to them.

These must be populated through Mt. SAC's registration system and cannot be changed by the user.



You can also add a photo and picture description.



From the preferences menu, you can also adjust how you are notified about changes and updates in your courses on Moodlerooms. From "Preferences," click on Messaging.
