

ABE Math/English Review

In an effort to promote academic support and success for incoming students, ABE has scheduled two evening sections of math and English review; this is in addition to the previously advertised daytime sections (flyers attached for Math and English). These classes are open-entry and available to students anytime between now and the start of fall term. They allow pre-enrolled students some just-in-time opportunities to brush up on their skills and competencies before starting their college-level classes in fall.

We are going to do an email announcement this afternoon to reach all faculty/counselors and staff as well as to promote these classes on the marquis. ABE counseling team is also connecting with credit counselors to help promote these courses and answer questions.

We thought we'd keep you posted.

Thanks!
